The Universal Declaration of Human Rights

Selected contemporary articles (1947-1949) available at UNOG Library

“What in your opinion are the five most important human rights to be included in a bill of rights for the world?”, in Changing world, 19 (February 1947), pp. 5 and 12. UNOG Call no. : Pp 28a

Dehousse, Fernand, « Les Droits de l'Homme, problème international », in Documentation française, Articles et Documents, no. 1205 (10 février 1948), pp. 3-4. UNOG Call no. : P 390a

Roosevelt, Mrs. Franklin D., « The struggle for human rights », in Department of State bulletin, vol. 19, no. 484 (October 10, 1948), pp. 457-460, 466. UNOG Call no. : Docs 973:327 D419d

« Magna Carta for the world? The U.N.’s newly adopted Declaration of human rights codifies man’s basic rights and freedoms for first time on the international level », in Freedom and Union, (February 1949), pp. 23-27. UNOG Call no. : Pp 355

Jessup, Philip C., « The conquering march of an idea », in Department of State bulletin, (September 19, 1949), pp. 432-435. UNOG Call no. : Docs 973:327 D419d

Simsarian, James, « United Nations work on human rights », in World affairs interpreter, no. 20 (Autumn 1949), pp. 256-263. UNOG Call no. : P 201

Prepared by the UNOG Library (December 2011) - http://www.unog.ch/library